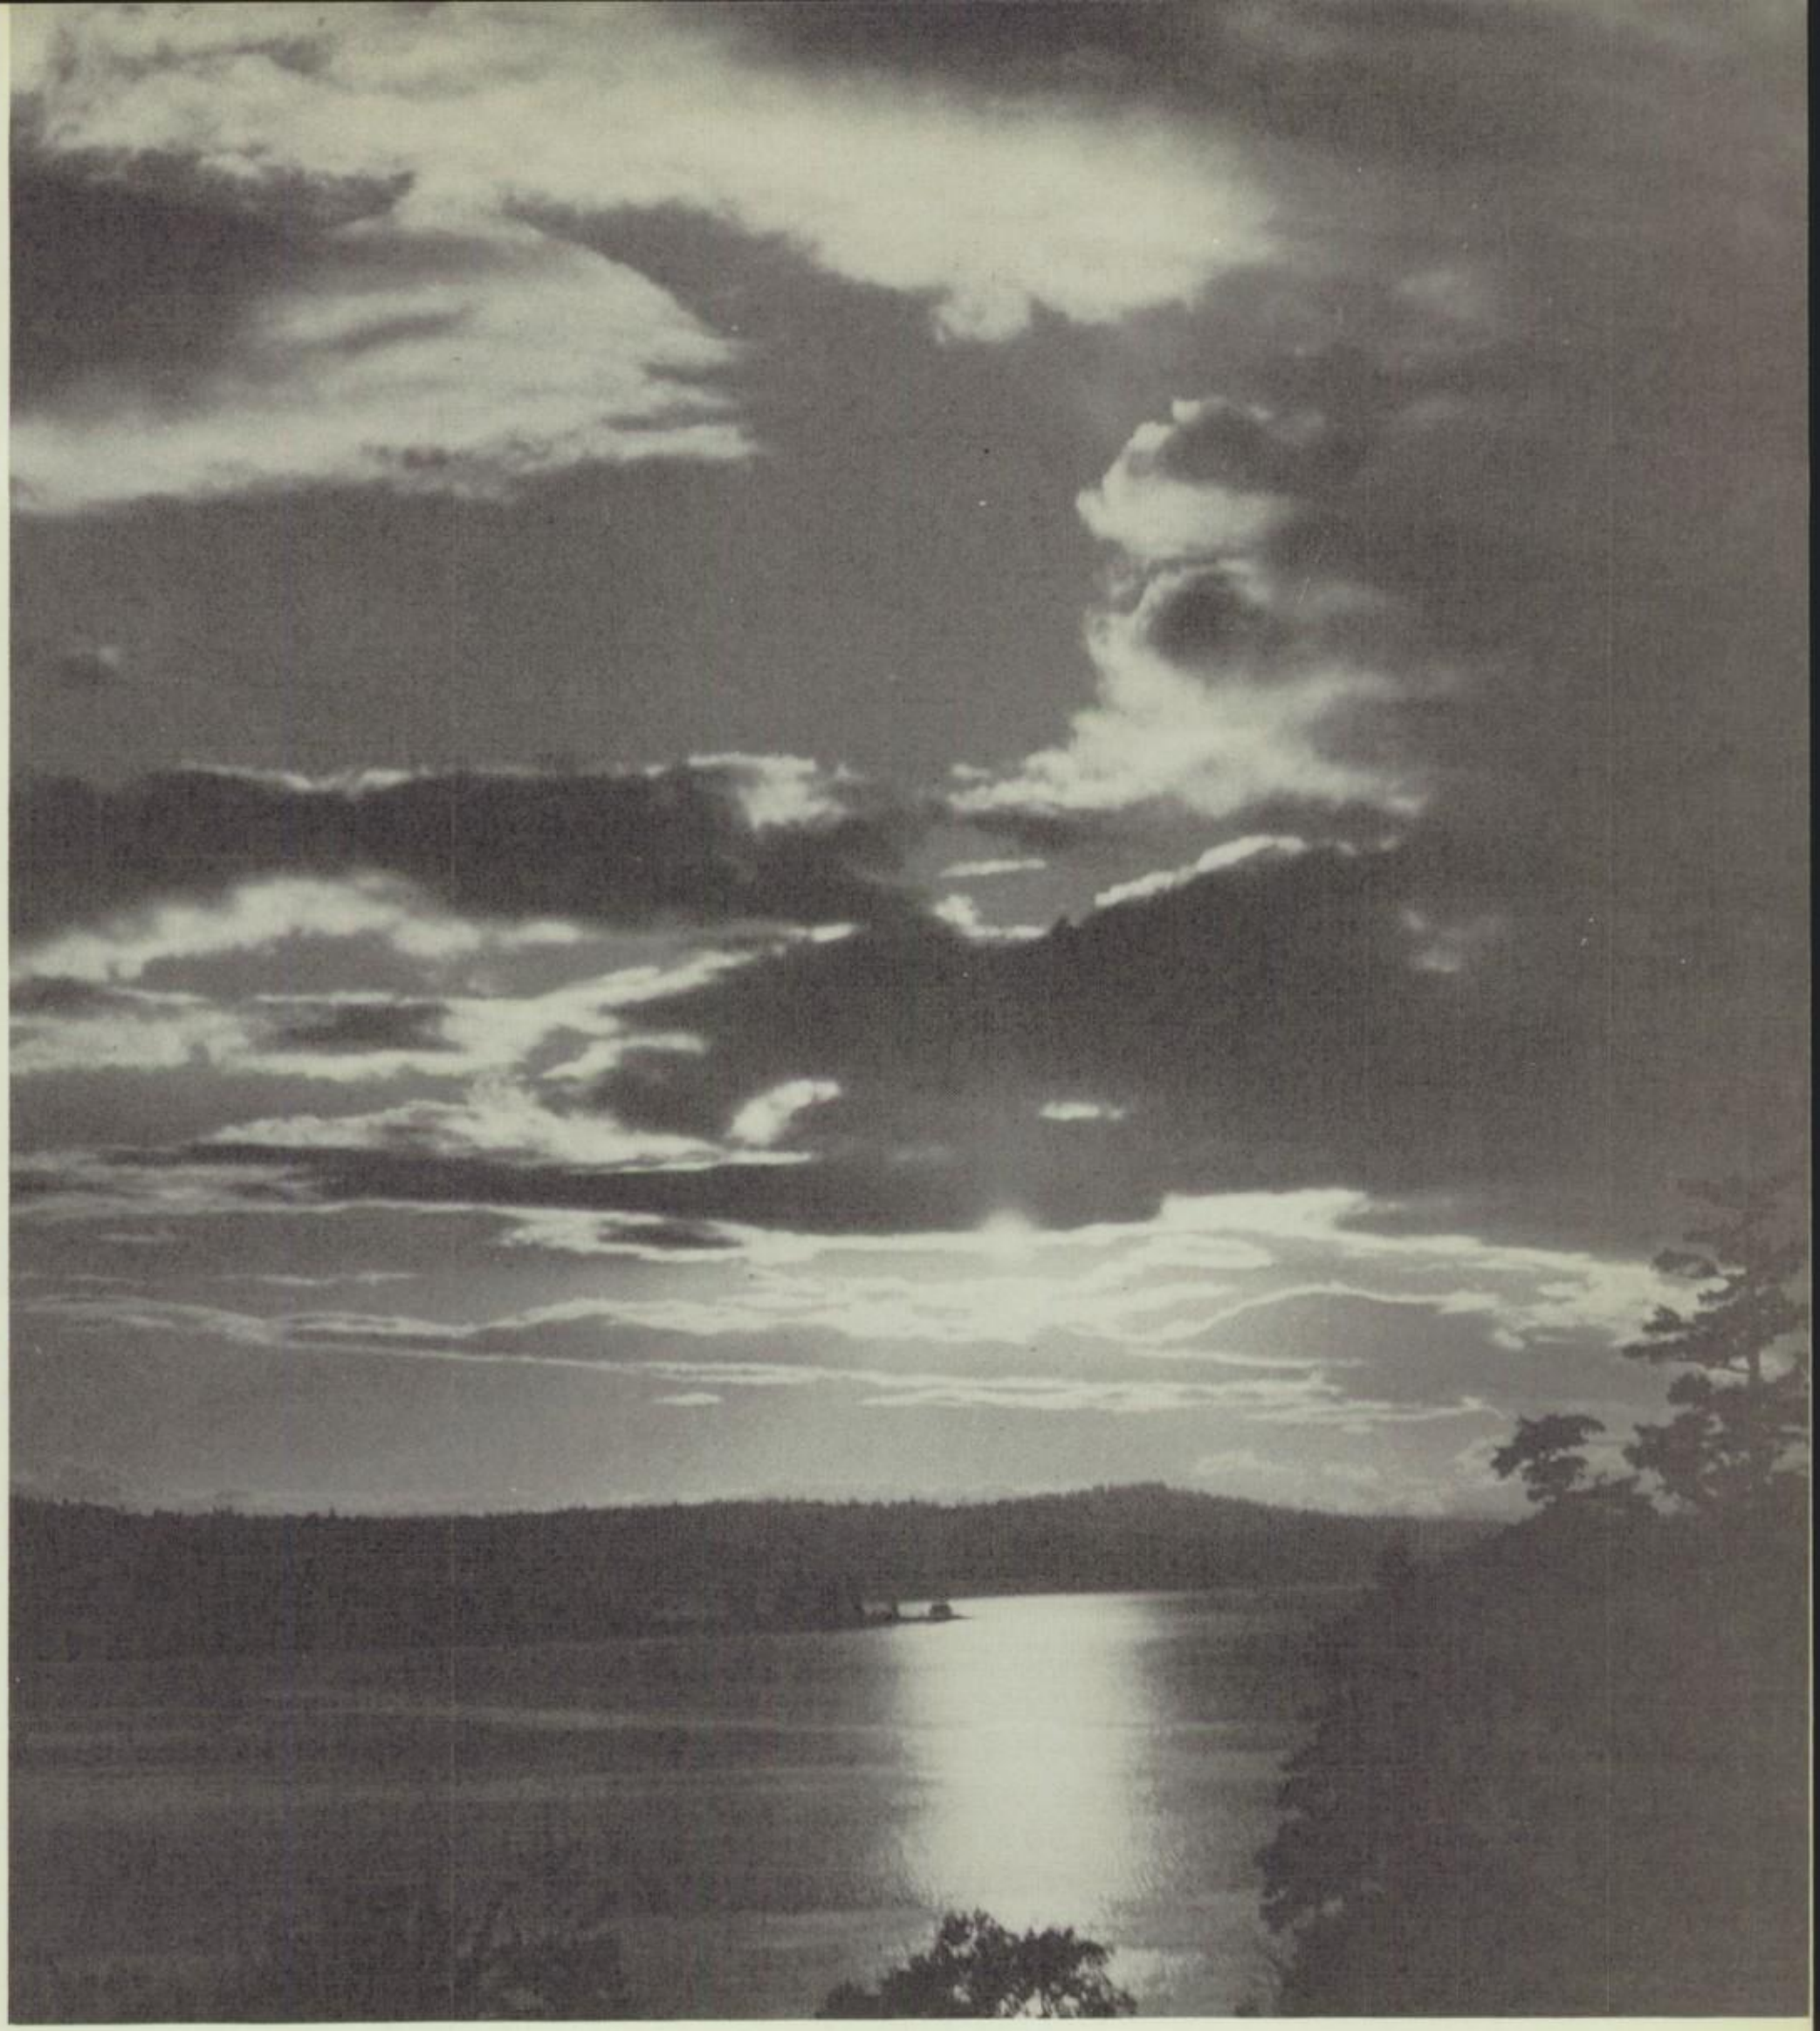
DEDICATION

We dedicate our annual and our futures, springing from the learning and experience of our school days, to Washington: our home, our state.



ADMINISTRATION

EDUCATION—Life itself—is based on the Christian and Democratic principles we see so consistently displayed in our school life, those same principles and ideals which we sincerely feel to be the one hope for preserving our civilization throughout this Atomic Age.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS

With the addition of the new building, Monroe has one of the finest agriculture and industrial arts buildings in the Pacific Northwest.

The agriculture department will be able to do almost any kind of repair work. The wood shop with its new equipment makes it possible to build all kinds of furniture.

The students of M.H.S. are most grateful to the board, their parents, and the state for the new opportunities thus offered to them.

As Chairman of the Monroe Board of Education, I am glad to say we have had a successful year.

We have made many improvements of our grounds and buildings such as the fence around our Memorial Field and tennis courts as well as the new shop and garage building and many more general items too numerous to mention.

Our District is in as good a financial condition as any district in the county and on inspection of the budget, even with all of the increased costs, the money has been very carefully spent so as to keep within our budget.

We have worked with the Superintendent as a team and have found him very cooperative and business-like in all our transactions.

The Board has had a very pleasant year and it has been a privilege to serve as Chairman.

The outstanding project for the year was the construction of our new vocational building which was formally opened on February 25, 1951. As Chairman, I feel this was a great accomplishment as it was so urgently needed and will be used by the coming generation.

I congratulate the members of the Senior Class for having completed their high school careers and I wish each of you continued success.

Mr. Percy Dyer
Chairman, Monroe Board of Education

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

SUPT. GERALD D. LADLEY

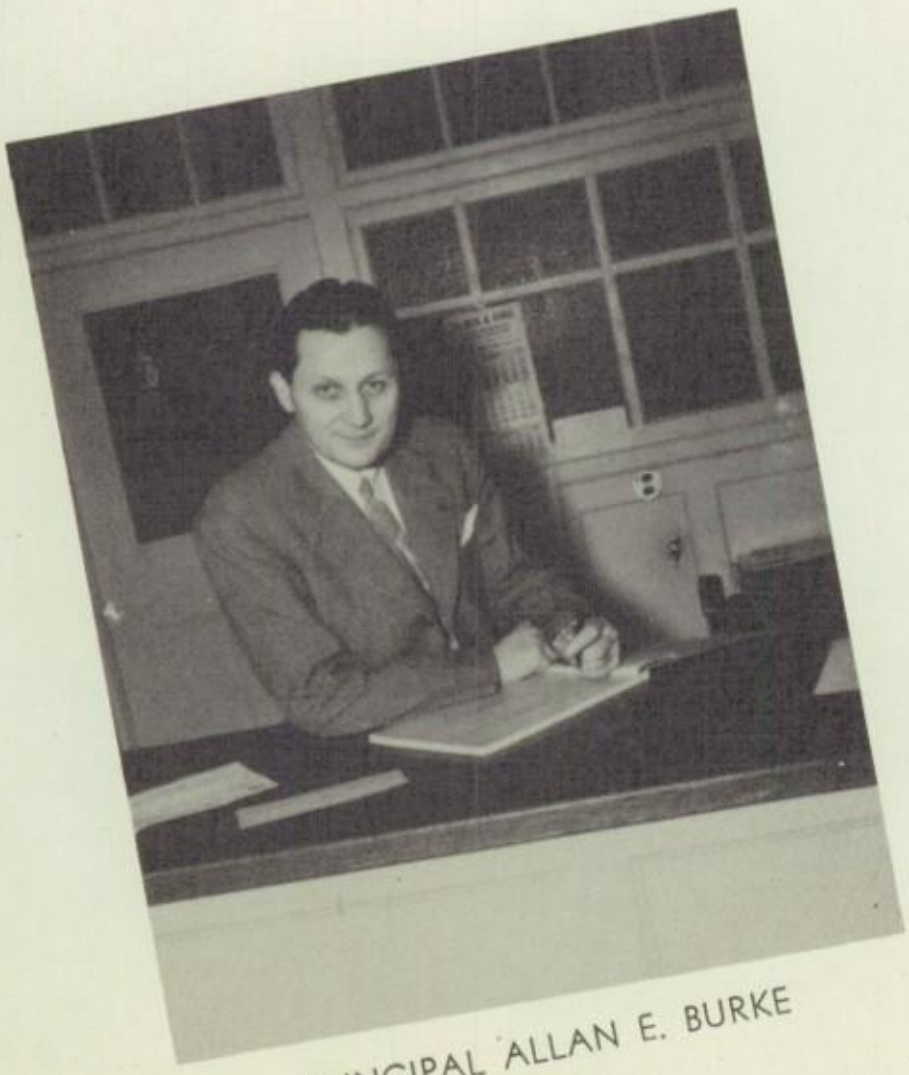
I have enjoyed my association with the Monroe Senior High School Class of 1951.

You have been told that you are living in a very trying age and that you are graduating into a world of turmoil and strife. This is all very true but a "normal" period of time is historical fiction.

The success or failure of your life depends upon your own abilities and efforts. I wish you the best of everything for the future and I shall glory in your success.

Sincerely,
Gerald D. Ladley
Superintendent

SUPT. GERALD D. LADLEY



PRINCIPAL ALLAN E. BURKE

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

We always look forward to the appearance of the "Hayu Saghalie" which is a treasured memento of the year's activities. Keep and cherish it, for you will refer to it often in the years to come.

To the Annual Staff are extended my congratulations for doing an outstanding job. It has been a pleasure to work with this year's senior class and I consider the year an outstanding one. It is my sincere hope that as you leave the school you will carry a genuine love and respect for Monroe High and a consciousness of the duty and responsibility that awaits each of you.

Sincerely,
Allan E. Burke
Principal

Sitting, left to right: Nick Nicholson, sophomore representative; Laverne Roberts, treasurer; Stan Chapman, Student Body president; Mr. Burke, advisor; Jean Sparks, secretary. Standing: Sharon Preston, sophomore representative; Toivo Cope, senior representative; Benny Johnson, junior representative; Neva Smith, senior representative.

The Student Council governs the school. At its meetings the Council schedules activities and decides on the handling of student affairs.

The Student Body officers, composed of the president, secretary, and treasurer, are elected by the students themselves. One boy and one girl representative are elected from each individual class. These students also attend the Student Council meetings.

Mr. Burke, principal of the school and the Student Council advisor, aids in determining the school policies.

GIRLS' CLUB

Sitting: LaRae Warren, Sec.; Nora Herman, Pres. Standing: Jeanne Clark, Treas.; Miss Willkie, Advisor; Carlene Raben, Vice-pres.; Jean Sparks, Senior Rep.; Sharon Preston, Soph. Rep.

BOYS' CLUB REVIEW

The Boys' Club, under the leadership of President Gary Raben and advised by Mr. Morrie Hahn, had a very eventful and entertaining year. The boys had three speakers in their season's program: one speaker from the Army; one from the Naval Reserve; and Hector Sears, who spoke about professional football from a background of wide experience. These speeches were much enjoyed by all. The club also presented movies on the University of Washington football games; and later on in the year Walt Price, the football coach from Everett Junior College, gave a very informative talk on athletics in colleges.

GIRLS' CLUB REVIEW

The object of the Girls' Club is to promote friendly relations and cooperation between members of the club and to present material to the girls for the betterment of the school.

The Girls' Club, under the leadership of Nora Herman, president, had the honor of having the Girls' Club Conference in Monroe this year. Another highlight of the season was the Kid Party given in the fall. Six representatives, accompanied by the advisor, Miss Wilkie, attended the annual Girls' Club Conference at Bellingham this spring and reported a meeting that was very worthwhile in all respects.

Classes

Of utmost importance in our school life are the friends we make, the talents we develop, and the memories we share.

CLASS OF "51"

In the fall of 1948, Monroe High School opened its doors to admit fifty-two graduated freshmen, eager to explore the portals of higher education and new activities. They entered with the motto, "We build for character instead of fame," under the leadership of Jim Hinshaw, president; Stan Chapman, vice-president; Jeanette Santose, secretary; and Margaret Salisbury, treasurer.

Serving as class officers during the junior year were Art Goebels, president; Darlene Wolfe, secretary; Jim Hinshaw and Shirley Lind were Student Council representatives. An outstanding event during the first semester was "Let's Take an Old Fashioned Walk," the Junior Prom which proved a success. There were two big activities in the second semester, the Junior-Senior Banquet and the Senior Ball afterwards. Under the direction of Miss Robertson, the junior class put on "The Mummy and the Mumps," which was presented March 30, 1950.

For the senior year, class officers were: Jim Hinshaw, president; Howard Johnson, vice-president; Jeanette Santose, secretary, and Earlaine LaFave, treasurer.

The class play "It Won't Be Long Now," was given on December 14, under the fine direction of Miss Wicklund. The play was fairly well attended and proved a huge success. After decorating the gymnasium into a beautiful scene, the seniors presented the annual "Ball," following their entertainment by juniors at a banquet given for them as a farewell gesture before departing from their high school careers as graduates of Monroe High School.

HAYU SAGHALIE

MISS WICKLUND—Advisor

Selecting a theme, planning layouts, taking pictures, writing copy, proof-reading, and finding money to put out the sort of annual Monroe students want was a task that had the heads of the staff and the advisor of the "Hayu Saghalie" reeling.

One disappointment was the fact that the early deadline made some of the pictures of spring activities and sports impossible to obtain. The staff has done its best and hopes the students and faculty are pleased.

The "Hi Tye," published by the students of the Monroe journalism class, is looked forward to by the students and the faculty.

The paper covers all school news such as football and basketball games, dances, entertainments, trips, and class activities. The journalism class is run like the staff of a large newspaper. There are editors, typists, business managers, advertising managers, and mimeographers.

The class sells advertisements to the town's business establishments and in that way is able to buy the ink and paper necessary for publication. Their support is vastly appreciated by the "Hi Tye."

In addition to the bi-monthly publication of the paper, the members of the class enjoy an exchange of papers with other schools of the state. This practice is very helpful in that the new ideas and techniques tried in other schools creates interest and enthusiasm among members of the Monroe staff.

MONROE FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA CHAPTER

The Monroe Chapter of the Future Farmers of America was very active during the school year of '50 and '51.

The exhibits of the Monroe Chapter at the Evergreen fair did very well—28 boys entered livestock at the Fair. Ted Ricci won the Grand Champion, Holstein award; Bob Ricci's heifer won both Reserve and Junior Champion Ribbons.

In the swine division, Dale Taylor's white Chester sow won Reserve Champion award, while Victor Johnson's white Chester boar copped Junior Champion. For the second time, Monroe won the Fair trophy for good housekeeping and conduct.

When the Monroe Chapter traveled to the Puyallup Fair, Stan Chapman's sow took the Grand Championship; Bill Boyden won the Junior Championship with his Ayrshire heifer. Ken Olson continued his winning streak when he took Reserve Champion with his Brown Swiss cow. Paul Coy received the high honor of the Washington Banker's Award. Monroe boasts two State Farmer's this year, Dick Barr and Stan Chapman.

The officers for the two semesters were: First semester: Stan Chapman, president; Bob Ricci, vice-president; Kenneth Olson, secretary; Dale Taylor, treasurer; Bill Meeker, reporter; Jerry Longman, sentinel. Second semester: Bill Boyden, president; Stan Chapman, vice-president; Don Wolfe, secretary; Ted Ricci, treasurer; Darrell Ricci, reporter; Tom Sofie, sentinel.

This year, Stan Chapman is trying for State Star Farmer. He was second high in the state for the title last year and made the trip to the National Convention at Kansas City. He was accompanied by Paul Coy, a member of last year's class.

Sparked by their very able director, Mr. Paul Bennett, and displaying new blue, gold, and white uniforms, the Monroe High School Band were an organization to be really proud of this year. Their ability, repertoire, and ease of performance placed them in the forefront of the county's best music groups. They appeared often and willingly at games, pep assemblies, and wherever else their services were requested. The season, which began with a very colorful and melodious appearance at the Evergreen State Fair, ended with a Spring Festival which clearly illustrated the growth of the band in instrumental proficiency.

"The Stardusters" were a small "hep" band organized by a group of eight high school students. Led by Don Pool's "hot" trumpet, they enlivened many an assembly program.

The Junior-Senior Luau in "BLUE HAWAII"

ART GOEBEL
Master
Ceremonies

Amid the gayly colored decorations of a Hawaiian "luau", the delighted members of the senior class enjoyed a delicious dinner and the brilliant repartee of the rival toastmasters, "Pee-Wee" Hester, and Art Goebel.

It was an evening worth particular mention in any memory book and will have a special place in senior reminiscences.

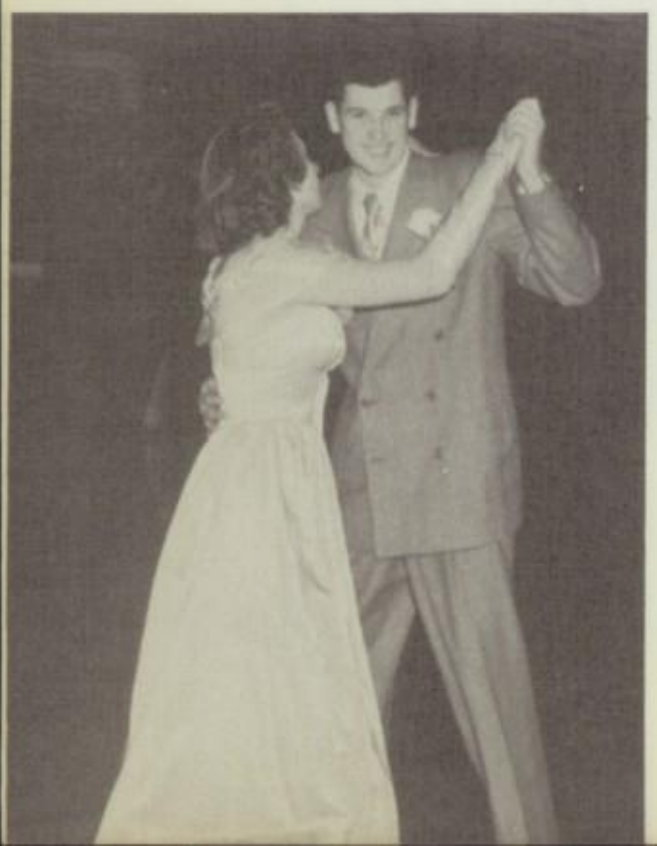
Lower left: Terry McCaffery laughs at the funny joke Patty White is telling him. Let us in on the joke, Terry.

THE SENIOR BALL



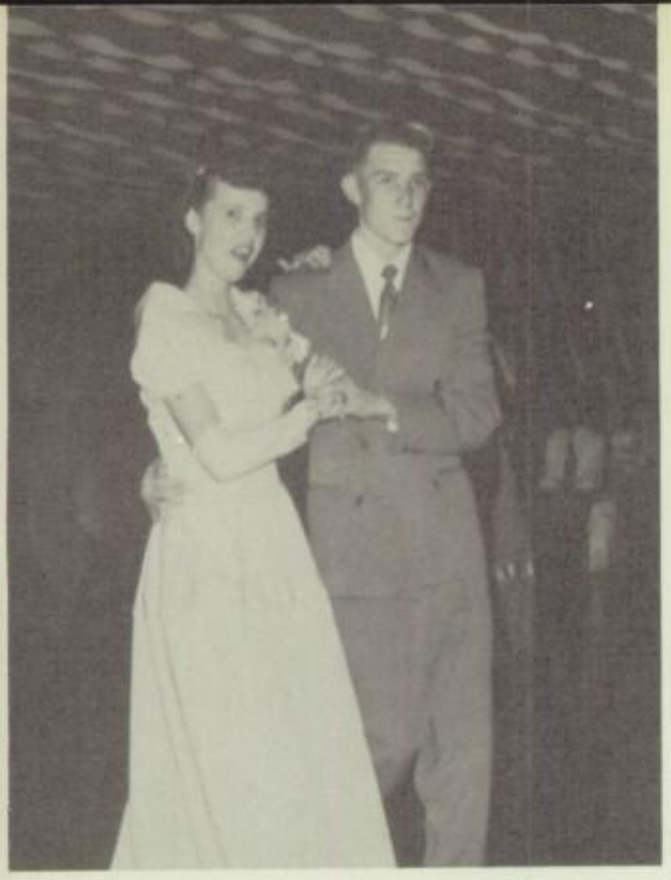
The Senior Ball of '50 was beautifully decorated to the theme of "Blue Hawaii." The ticket booth was disguised to resemble a travel bureau with maps and travel folders tacked up on the walls.

On the stairs was all the rigging of a ship—port-holes, purser's office and baggage room.

The entrance to the dance floor was by gang plank from the ship onto the shores of Hawaii.

On one wall an unusual mural of Hawaii was made from thousands of colored napkins. Marilyn Knoshaug was in charge of the decorations and the fact that she and her crew worked long and hard was evidenced in the beauty of the surroundings.

The band was "Wally's Band" of Everett.



Upper left: Howard Johnson and Darlene Snoozy dance a fast foxtrot to a number they requested.

Center right: Art Goebel and Aloha Raben take time out from dancing to enjoy a cool glass of punch in the entrance.

Lower right: Ronnie Matlock and his date, Jeanne Clark, "smile pretty" for the photographer as they glide to their favorite waltz.

THE JUNIOR PROM

This year the juniors chose a very novel theme, "Deep Purple", for their prom. The gym was decorated with purple, white, and lavender crepe paper streamers with a mural of a stone wall along one side of the floor. The stair rails were twined with ivy and the floors were lined with moss covered rocks. All of the juniors helped with the decorating under the chairmanship of Carlene Raben.

The music was furnished by the Walter Curtis band and vocalist from Everett. They very generously played several requests during the evening.

Refreshments, punch and cookies, were served during the short intermission.

QUEEN ALOHA RABEN

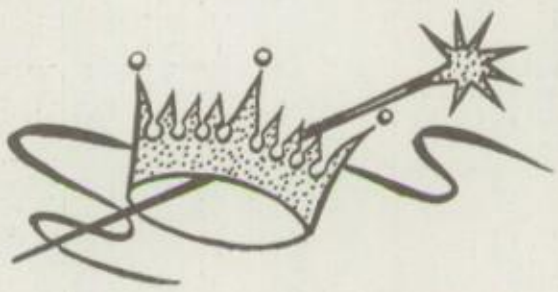
BEARCAT ROYALTY



Earlaine is the first BASKETBALL QUEEN at Monroe. She was elected by the basketball team at the close of the successful season.

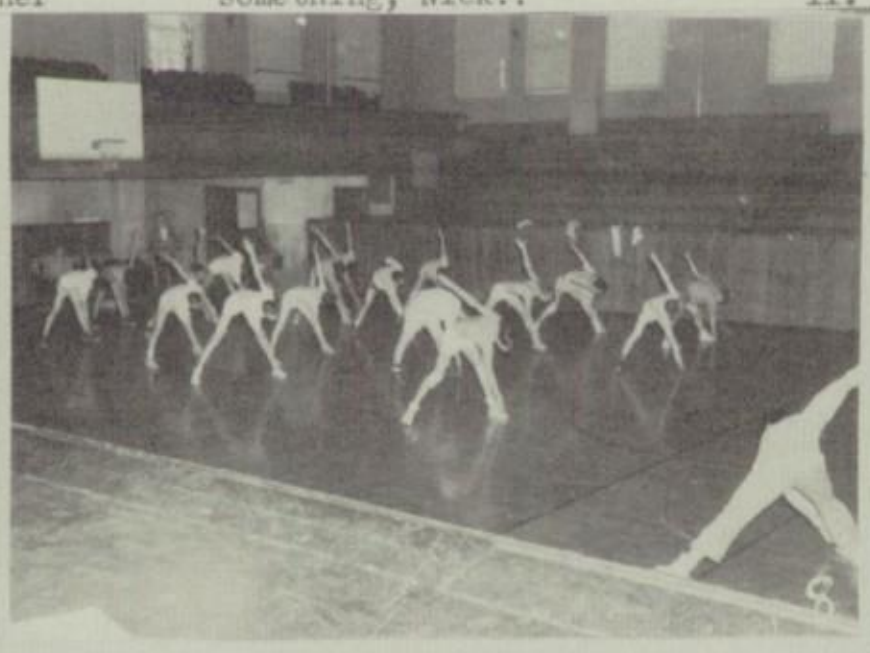
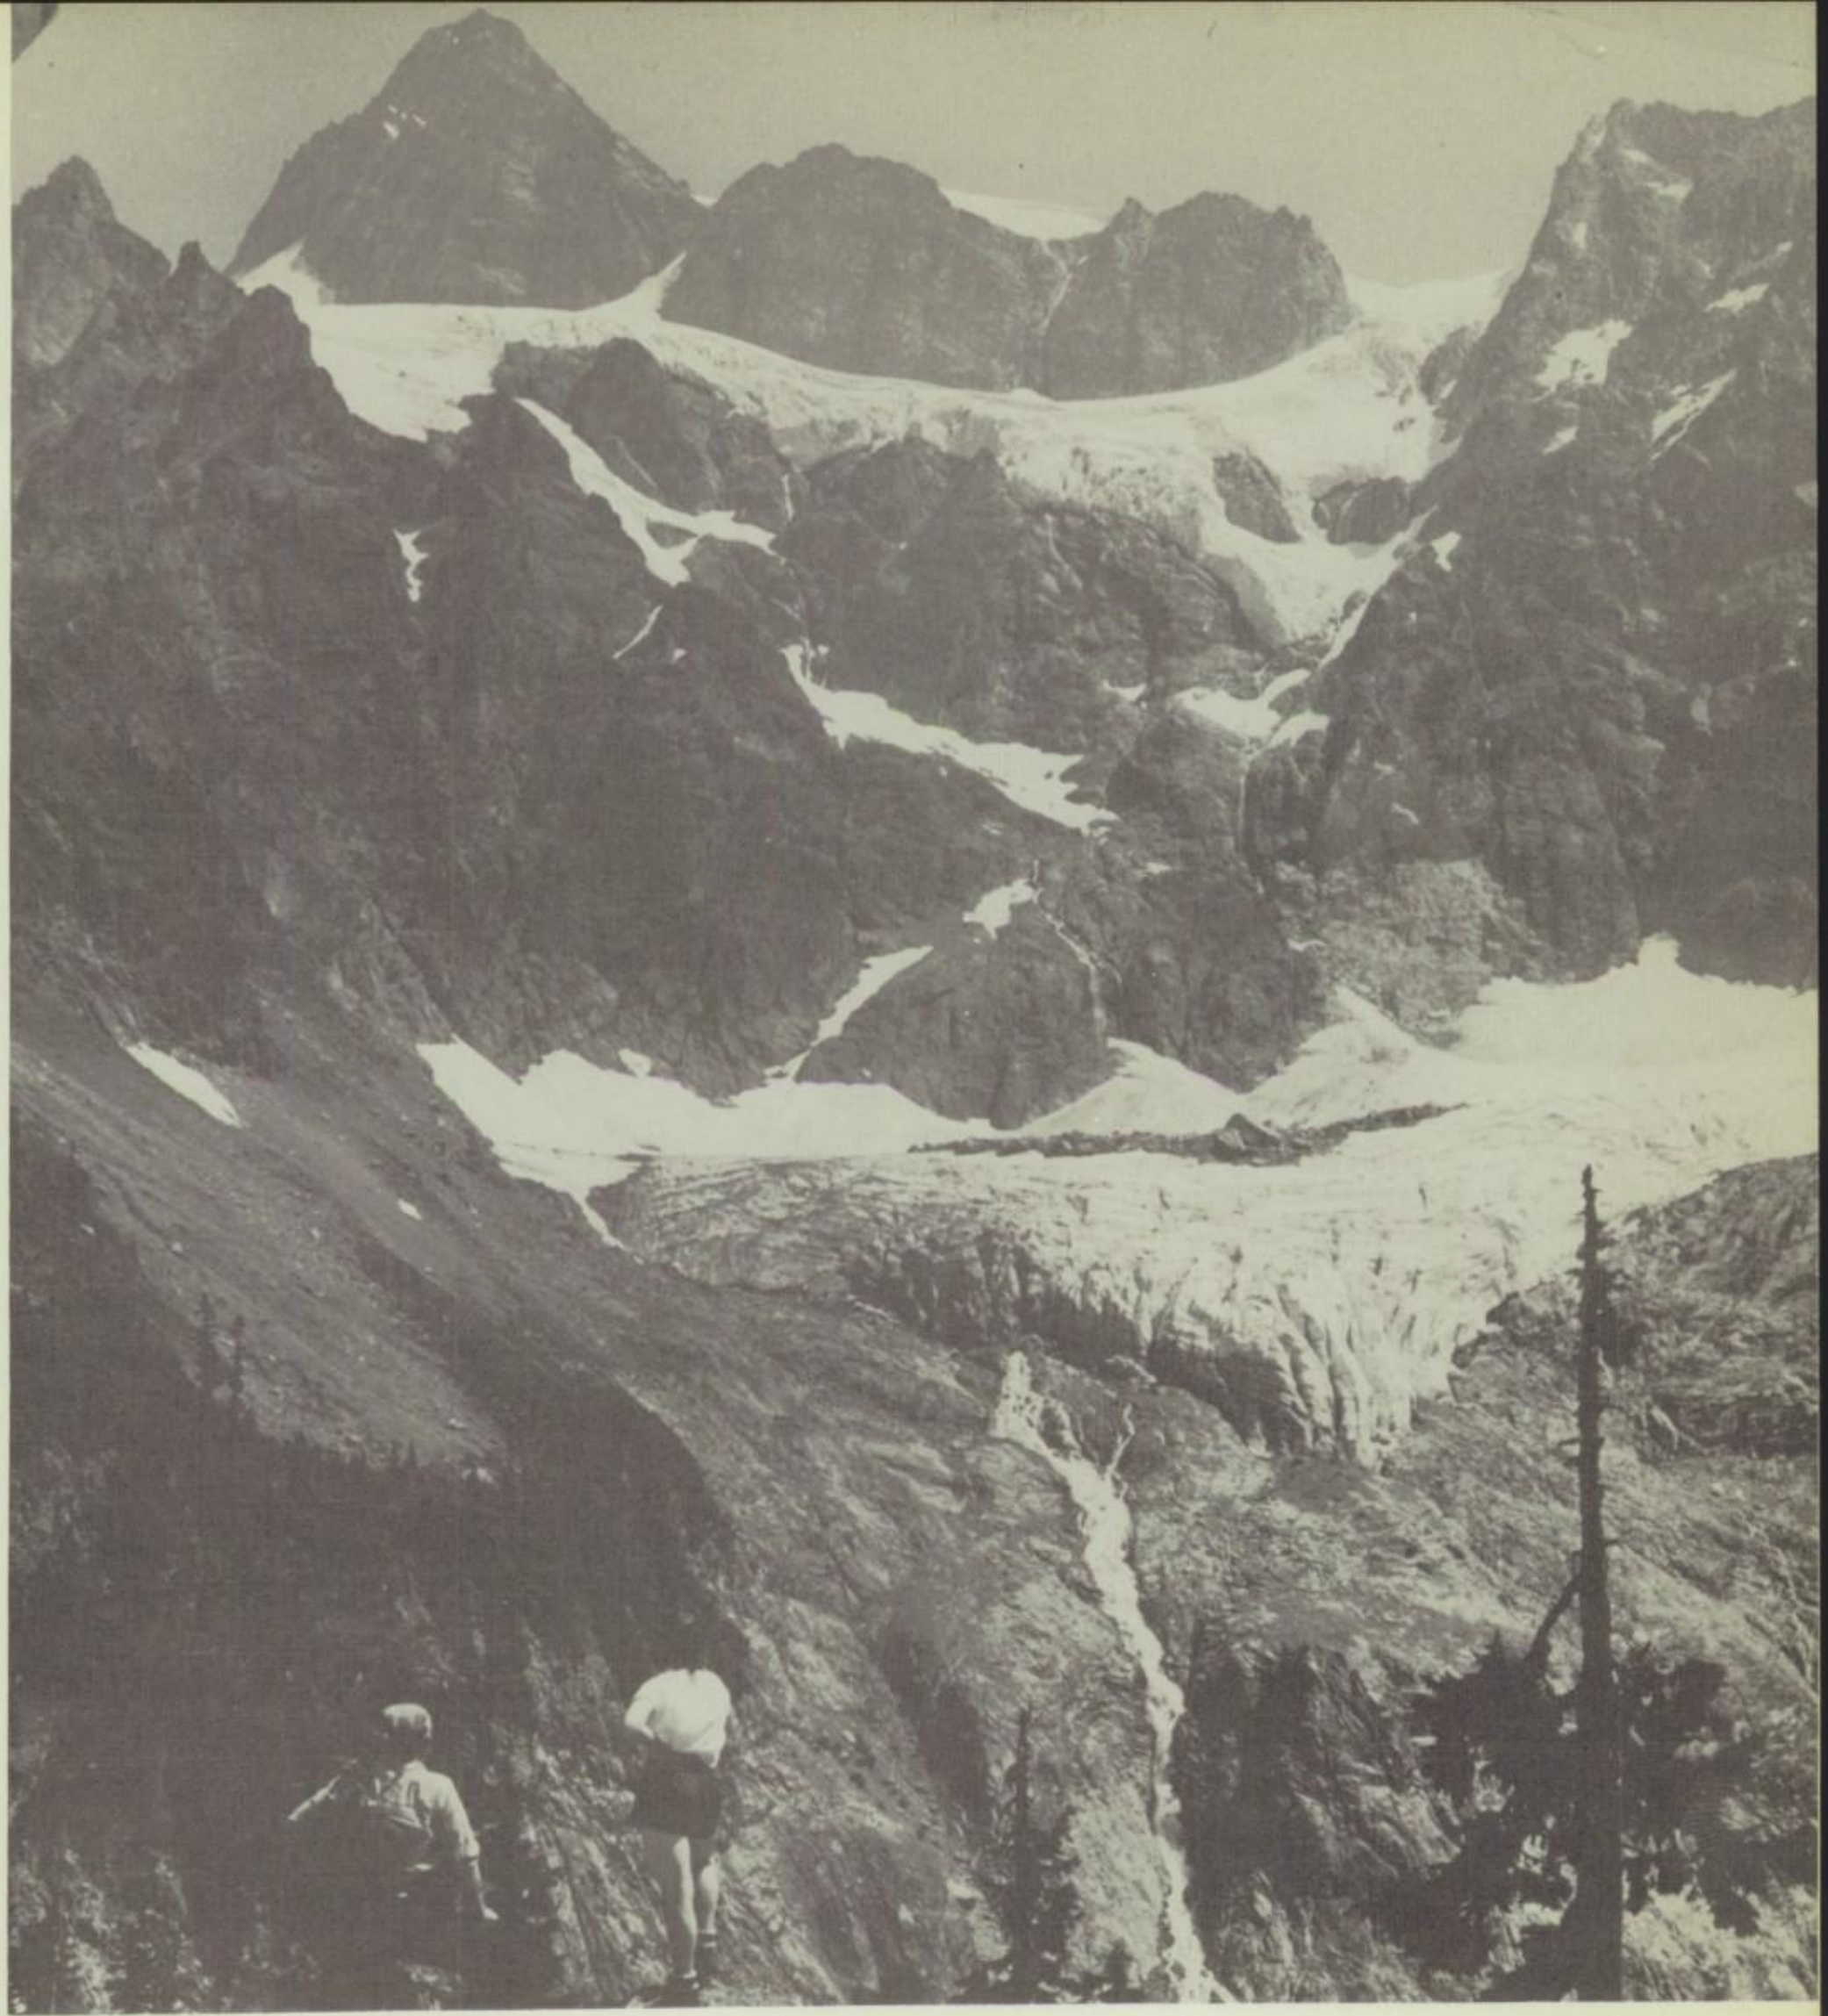
8. Morrie and his boys practicing their calesthenics !
9. Colleen, has Jim been talking about the mule-team again??
10. The "Stardusters" playing Goofus.
11. What's the big joke, teachers??



1. Mickey, don't trust them!
2. Jim, David, Denny, and Bill just acting natural.
3. Who are your "friends," Kenny??
4. Jean, Jeanette, and Margaret, "batching" at the lake.
5. Hey, Tommy! Where are you going with our uniforms?
6. Office staff: Mr. Burke, LaVerne, JoAnn, Ramona, Earlaine, Gerry, and Carlene.
7. Studying hard, Helen and Gordy?
8. Sophomores acting out "The Thing."
9. Seniors enjoying themselves at a party.
10. Where's the ball, Bonnie??
11. Hi-Tye Staff in action.
12. Seniors getting "greased" up for the senior play.
13. MY! MY! Look what Santa brought Miss Anderson.
14. Why the disgusted look, Mr. Bennett? Isn't Lee doing it right??



Athletics

Washington is a land of opportunity for the sportsminded citizen! Be it fishing, boating, hunting, mountain-climbing or the more strenuous school sports of football and basketball—the Evergreen State will accept the challenge of even the most critical of perfectionists.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

STAHL'S "BEARCATS"

Monroe's Stahl-tutored "Bearcats" got off to a slow start; but they set for their goal, the finish line, and gave their opponents a good race. The boys took it on the chin when they met Snohomish in a pre-season game and were still hanging on the ropes when Twin Cities caught them. Twin Cities downed them for the count but the Monroe boys played a brilliant and rough defensive game that showed they were beginning to find themselves. Still slow on the offensive, Monroe held Lake Stevens with defensive play until an intercepted pass, carried over by Tom Sofie, put the Bearcats out in front. Still defensive minded, the "Stahlmen" stood stout to prove Monroe's brawn and muscles equal to that of Concrete's. The Monroe boys suffered the loss of Tom Sofie for the remainder of the season when he was injured in the Concrete game. Tom played first team ball and was a good hard runner. He will carry on his stellar ball playing next year for the Monroe Gridsters.

Wha! hoppen! The Bearcats drowned the unbeaten Sultan "Turks". In a steady downpour, a miniature Nigara, the Bearcats and Turks played a real ball game, trading touchdown for touchdown; but the Bearcats splashed ahead by a slight but well earned one-point lead 13-12. With renewed vigor the "Stahlmen" met Coupeville with a flashy 32-0 victory, proof enough that their offensive playing was beginning to click. With a full head of steam, they proceeded to flatten the favored O'Dea eleven of Seattle. With Langley, came the gridsters last game of the season. They were determined to put it over for good old M.H.S. and hang on to their place in the league.

Captain of the "Stahlmen," Art Goebel, Benny Johnson, Jim Hinshaw, and Fay Frost were defensive stars for the Bearcats this season. The blocking of Gary Raben made Monroe's winning scores possible. Offensive standouts were Jim Hinshaw, Ted Reule, Bill Meeker, and Dennis Janke. Guil Hansen proved his punting ability during the season, many times over.

Monroe placed 3rd in Tri-county "B" League play, scoring 84 points to their opponents 30 points in league play.

Having the best defensive team in the league, Monroe was unscored against with running plays, but was scored on punt returns, passes, and kickoffs.

Art Goebel, Jim Sofie, and Jim Hinshaw were put on the Tri County "B" League Team. Jim Hinshaw was given honorable mention on the State "B" League Team.

The Monroe grid season was brought to a close with a better than average standing. While credit goes to the above players and the entire Bearcat squad, much credit must be given to the good works of Mr. John Stahl and Mr. "Morrie" Hahn. Mr. Stahl spent his time with the backfield men on the gridiron while Mr. Hahn put his talents across to the linemen.

The graduating lettermen of "51" extend their gratitude to Mr. Stahl and Mr. Hahn for their fine job of coaching and a good season to the Bearcats of "52."

Under the competent guidance of the new coach, John Stahl, the Orange and Black cagers finished in a third place tie in the Northwest Tri-County league race and then fought their way to the same position in the Northwest District "B" tourney at Mt. Vernon.

The resurging Bearcats could not be classed as spectacular, but they played good heads-up basketball when the chips were down and won their share of games. At the season's end, they could boast of one of the better defensive records for high school teams in this part of the state.

Monroe played 20 games from December 5 to March 3, including four in the tournament. They won 12 while losing 8. Of this number, they won eight, lost four in league play, won three out of four tournament games, while losing three practice contests against "A" League competition.

Stan Chapman, with 174 points, and Bill Boyden, with one less, captured the season's high point honors for the Bearcats. John Kirby was third in the scoring parade with 84 tallies.

Monroe drew La Conner as their opponent in the opening contest in the N. W. "B" Tournament at Mt. Vernon and squeezed out a narrow 44-43 victory over the Braves. Whatever whammy Twin City held over the Stahlmen, it worked again the night of March 1 and the Bearcats fell from championship contention after absorbing a 50-33 spanking from the Cardinals. The next evening they trampled Skyomish 48-30 with the sophomores playing a good share of the ball game, to remain in the running for third place tournament hardware.

Dog-tired, but still determined, they whipped La Conner for the second time in the tourney the following night and captured third place honors.

That wrote a finis on the most successful Bearcat cage season in years and the team packed the suits into the mothballs until next year with a determined, "Look out for the Bearcats in 1951-52."

Bouquets for fine individual performances during the year go to Chapman and Boyden for taking high-point honors, to Bob Anderson and Jim Hinshaw for some of the finest defensive work seen in these parts in many a year, to Guil Hansen for that extra height that was needed on numerous occasions, to Dennis Janke and Tom Sofie who stopped many an enemy rally at the right moment when they were substituted into a game and to the promising sophomores Kirby, Nicholson, and Leyde, who will bear watching in future Orange and Black maple court battles.

There were no outstanding stars on the Monroe cage squad—all ten men played a good brand of team basketball. They worked as a smooth, well-oiled machine through most of the schedule and with a few breaks here and there might have gone all the way.

Coach Morrie Hahn's Monroe Junior Varsity rolled up an even more impressive record than did the regulars. They won 13 contests while dropping out three in playing a similar schedule to the first team.

Dear Miss Sparks:

You didn't exactly make my assignment easy, did you?

I mean, being a beauty judge is fun - but why should all four of the photos you sent me be of such very lovely young ladies?

But since I agreed to make a selection for the "Hayu Saghalie," here goes . . .

The Winner: Helen Valentine

I think Monroe High School is to be congratulated for having such attractive girls in its classrooms. And thank you for inviting me to be the judge of this contest.

With every good wish,

Sincerely,
